

METROPOLIS ANNEX

We have taken on caretaking of Teaterøens Annex and we are continuing to keep this unique space as a performing arts facility in Copenhagen after 12 years under the umbrella of Teaterøen and with more than 200 arts/performance companies who have used the spaces.

With its unique location in the former shipyard and with the industrial wasteland/re-emerging urban nature and 17.000m² of post industrial rewilding habitat to connect to and play in, and almost one hundred innovative and spirited neighbours, Metropolis Annex offers a raw, sensitive urban retreat for physical and emotional resuscitation and inspiration for creative scenarios and artistic processes.

We are exploring how artistic practice can affect and influence our rethinking of our relations to the environment, both the so called natural, the constructed and the social, cultural and political. We work together with artists, creators and thinkers in collective processes, and we are open for proposals to use our spaces and also to connect with what we do and work with.

As an independent and experimental platform we depend on our partners, on Statens Kunstfond and Københavns kommune for support for activities. We will continue to locate our international residency Metropolis residency program here and use this as a base for Performing Landscapes program in 2023.

Metropolis Annex is the initiative of Trevor Davies, long time founding director of Københavns Internationale Teater and Metropolis (www.metropolis.dk).
